Custom made of the best stock, with work manship. Miners' Calf and Kip Boots with double soles and bottoms and heavy counters, suitable for an immediate demand, constantly on hand for Utah, Idaho and Montana trade.

The territories which present remarkable inducements for emigration are Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Washington, Nevada, Arizona, and New Mexico. The first four abound in gold, Nevada in silver, and Arizona and New Mexico in gold silver and copper. Judging from all that we know of these territories, it may confidently be said that they are the richest on the face of the earth. There are no gold mines (always excepting California) which can compare, in large and permanent yields, with those of Colorado and Idaho; there are no known silver mines, excepting those of Mexico (many of which are worked out,) which do not sink into insignificance alongside of the enormous deposits of silver sulphurets in Nevada. No part of the world can show such oxides and carbonates of copper in such abundance as Arizona and New Mexico, to say nothing of the gold and silver which enrich those territories. Imagination reels under the effort to calculate the amount of wealth which patient well-directed American enterprize will yet dig out of the bowels of the great Rocky Mountain region.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

"What a fool I" said Patty Prim, when she heard of the capture of Jeff. Davis; "of course the men would all run after him if he was dressed as a woman, and he was sure to be caught."

MONDAY MORNING, SEPT. 11, 1865

Who is to Blame?

A Great deal has been said and written condemnatory, and in extenuation, of the crimes of Brigham Young. Much has been laid to his charge that neither he nor his satellites are willing he should be unanswerable for, and much difference of opinion prevails as to the extent of of his guilt. Some there are who acquit him of all blame and laud him to the skies as a very paragon of perfection. Some of his more enthusiastic admirers go even futher than this, they extol him as a God, and have publicly testified in open meeting that "he is the only God they want." Others attribute every evil to him, and consider him as entitled to be second only in command to his Satanic Majesty himself. Others, again, acquit him of the actual perpetration of crime; but attribute the greater part of the crimes committed in this Territory to his immediate influence and direction. There are grades of opinion between all these, and but few agree entirely upon the matter. Whatever view of the subject we may take, it will be acknowledged by all that crimes of fearful import have been perpetrated, and the guilty have not been brought to justice.

In the labyrinth of doubt existing, a hope has sprung into existence. At the very epoch, when many were almost despairing of solving the problem, behold a preceptor steps forward, and volunteers his aid. The editor of the Salt Lake Daily Telegraph, apprehensive of blunders arising from lack of correct information, anticipates the plea of ignorance likely to be made on committal, and promises to forstall it by enlightening us as the subject, and letting us and posterity see the transactions in their true color. We shall await the diffusion of the new light to dawn upon us with a sensation of profound expectancy, for we certainly believe many of the deeds of darkness perpetrated here to have been done with the sanction and approval of the Church dignitaries, and that they ought to come under the influence of a light sufficiently lucid to expose them them clearly to the public view.

As, however, it frequently happens that some of the paraphernalia of the Telegraph unfortunately gets out of repair, we purpose, pending the arrival of reliable information on the subject from that source, suggesting a few thoughts, and an opinion or two, of our own, on the question at issue.

It has been long conceded by the observant abroad, as well as by the more intelligent portion of the community here, that whatever may have been the origin of the fallacies and crimes of Utah Mormondom, the Lion of the Tribe of Utah is chiefly responsible for their promulgation, and the result attendant upon their practice. He is, and is acknowledged to be, by even the best informed portion thereof, practically, the master-mind of the church.

It sometimes happens that the leader of a faction is but the tool of his party; and, as such, less blameable than those who have made the ambitious proclivities of his nature, their stepping stone to fame. Yet, even then, his ambition is to be deprecated, and whatever may be the policy of his party,—however destructive to their true interests, or however inglorious their defeat by a faction of opposite tendencies, the heaviest of the blow falls upon him, and he becomes a worse than bankrupt in the general wreck that follows. Indeed, this result so frequently ensues, that it may be considered as, generally speaking, part of the inexorable Law of retribution.

On the other hand, the crimes of a people cannot always be fathered upon their leaders. There are spirits, incorrigible as the wind, who act independent of the party or principles to which they are professedly attached, and who, acknowledging no other law than that of their own insubordinate wills, "become a law unto themselves." Nevertheless, so long as even these claim societary membership, the societies that foster them and acknowledge a fraternal relationship with them, must expect, to some extent, at least, to bear the responsibility of their deeds. If a society is unwilling to lay under the ban of reproach occasioned by the exploits of such refractory members, its only resource is to expunge them from membership and utterly disclaim them; until this is done, mankind will hold it to an accountability. Not only is this the case with regard to refractory member of society; the argument applies with equal force in relation to obligations of societies generally to their leaders, and of leaders to the societies they govern; especially so in respect to those founded on the principles of free republicanism. There are other constituent forms of government where the same rule may be applied with considerable force; but none it affects so sensibly as the imperious theocracy of Utah Republicanism (!)

Now it is a well established fact that Brigham Young possesses an almost unlimited control over the minds and actions of his subjects. Whatever his mandate, such, to them, is law. The secret oaths of the endowment house bind them to him, and the fiat of his wrath is more feared by them than the thunderbolt of Jove. It is, therefore, self-evident, that no deed will be perpetrated by his minions, who court his smile rather than heaven's favor, unless directly authorized by him, or the actors feel assured of his approval. That insults and injuries have been received through private feelings and personal spite, we have no wish to deny; but that the greater part of the crimes committed in Utah by professed Mormons, have been the result, directly or indirectly, of church influence, there is very strong collateral evidence, not unaccompanied by some very positive.

Although we have no intention of making any "silly attempts to father upon President Young everything said and done in Utah," we do charge upon him and his immediate associates, such as Kimball and Grant, the responsibility of the leading crimes committed here, and for many substantial reasons. The premises we have assumed, and on which we have based the argument herein contained, are by no means untenable, as we think the following brief selection of facts will sufficiently prove.

Brigham Young knew of the Mountain Meadow Massacre and the names of Bishop Lee, Haight, and a number of others are before him as the perpetrators of that bloody deed; and though, at that time, he was Governor of the Territory as well as President of the Church, he neither persecuted the murderers, nor even excommunicated them from the the Church; but, on the contrary, when Judge Cradlebaugh sought to bring them to justice, exerted his influence to screen them from the punishment due them. When the famed Rebellion of Utah broke out, he it was that incited the people to hostility against the United States. When in 1861, Charles Enmore and a number of others were murdered on the bench about four miles south-west of Ogden, he it was that lauded the deed on the following Sabbath at Ogden City. When Mr. Morris and two women were shot on the 15th of June, 1862, by his favorite pet, Colonel Burton, and Mr. Banks by Brown, under cover of a flag of truce, in Fort Weber, he it was that afterwards publicly approved the deed in the 20th Ward School house of Salt Lake City.

We might multiply instances, but our space forbids. For eighteen years past, this Territory has been one grand theatre of crime, crime, the committal of which he has been cognizant of, and which he has never sought to check, though one word from him would have checked it. How, then can we regard him otherwise than as an accessory to the deeds committed, if not as the originator of the scheme adopted to secure their certain perpetration, and circumstances point strongly to him as the latter.

BY PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

[SPECIAL TO THE DAILY VEDETTE.]

New York Sept. 7th.

The Times' Washington special says, the President has received within a few days past numerous letters from prominent citizens of Virginia, North Carolina and Miss., expressing the apprehension of an insurrection by the freedmen in those States. These letters the President has referred to the Freedmen's Bureau for consideration and Gen'l Howard has issued a circular to Col. Brown, recommending the patrol of citizens, or the Police system to be under the control of the department Commander in the counties where there are no agents for the Freedmen's Bureau.

Ex-Governor Brown, of Georgia, was pardoned to day by the President.

The Herald's special says a revolting character of evidence is now deduced in the Wirtz trial, in support of the Prosecution and is said to be wearing heavily on the mind of the accused and torturing him with the most fearful apprehensions as to the decision of the Commission hearing the case. Some people who are watching the demeanor of the prisoner closely, give the opinion that should he continue to be a prey to the fearful doubts which now be ea him he will not survive another month. So far about 40 witness have been examined.

Brevet Maj Gen'l J. F. Fuller has resigned his command in the army and will in a few days take his departure for his home in California.

Washington Sept. 8th.

The Navy department dispatched from the Washington Navy Yard to-day, a gunboat to proceed via St, Lawrence to Detroit and the Lakes. This action of the Government is deemed important as terminating the long existing treaty and stipulations restricting naval protection on the frontier waters.

Reports to the Agricultural Department for August, from all parts of the country, though not entirely complete, show the corn crop to be enormously large and is maturing in excellent order, its excess over the past years, more than compensates for the deficiency in wheat. The potatoe crop is unusually large and promises well. In some localities rot has appeared.

New York, Sept 9th.

General trade continues moderately active with improving prices for most of the commodities. The Breadstuffs speculation broke down under a sudden decline of five cents on wheat. Reports from Europe however give a very unfavorable account of crops there. Gold rules very firm at 44¼ under a continued demand for customs. Foreign exchange is dull 109¼ for bankers' sixty days bills, and the supply of cotton bills, together with Canadian advices, where exchange is low at present, tends to depress the rates and more than neutralize the preponderance of imports over exports, but is not likely to be permanent. Government bonds are dull, except five-twenties, which are firm and in demand. Quicksilver 53; Wool quiet and rates light; Hides in good demand and market active, sales of 4,000 California at 26¼; Mexican, 16 cents in gold. The usual selections of provisions are dull. Pork is lower and without speculation.

A letter addressed by Mason, the rebel agent in England, to the London Times of August 20th, says, he sent orders long since to the pirate Shenandoah to cease hostilities, go into port, disarm and discharge her crew. His orders were sent through channels which would ensure their prompt delivery and by this time, it is presumed, her cruise has ended.

New York, Sept. 7th.

The Commercial's special says, the President has permitted Henry S. Foote to return to Tennessee, and he passed through Cincinnati a few nights since, en route for his home in Nashville, on condition that he would not interfere in politics.

The Post's special says, the President declines to release Mallary, the rebel ex-Secretary of the Navy, but gives his family permission to visit him.

St Paul, Minn., Sept. 6.

The Republican Convention, after much animated balloting, nominated Gen. W. R. Marshall, for Governor, on the 22d ballot.

New York, Sept. 7th.

The Cincinnati Commercial has a dispatch dated at Jackson, Miss., the 4th, which says that Gen. Slocum has issued an order, by the direction of the President, enjoining on his officers not to interfere with the organization of the state militia ordered by Governor Sharkey. This is directly the reverse of the determination of the Government on this subject as reported a few days since, and is accounted for by the fact that the Government is looking to a gradual supression of the Federal troops by the State militia, in order to diminish the national expenses.

The Commercial's special says, intelligence from Mexico confirms the reports of disasters to the Liberals, and the strategetic combinations of the Imperialists seem to preclude the hope of prolonged resistance by Juarez. The retreat of the Mexicans from Chihuahua is confirmed, and it is not probable that they can sustain their position and relapse into that continued resistance, without aid, much longer. It cannot be looked for, since the French are receiving reinforcements, and are now in better position than ever.

The President will not interfere with the action of the Southern Bishops; they may unite with the Northern Church, or not, as they please. In reply to the remonstrances of the radicals, he stated that the Constitution was silent on the subject.

From Gen. Connor's Indian Expedition.

[From an occasional Correspondent.]

HEAD QUARTERS, POWDER RIVER INDIAN EXPEDITION. August 14th, 1865

Messrs. Editors—I write again to let you know that I still think of my promise. Since my last we have got along finely. The Gen and his command left the Platte on the 4th inst., and traveled an average distance of thirteen miles per day. We had comparatively but little work to perform over the road we traversed to make it an A No 1 wagon road, and the greatest distance between water is 18 miles; the grass is excellent and plenty of wood except one place. The stock are in much better condition than when we started. We arrived at Powder River on the 11th inst., and are now engaged in making preparations to build a military post, where we will leave our heavy freight for the present, and proceed as light as possible to Tongue River, where we expect to meet the several columns en route to that place and there establish another post and give the Indians a wholesome lesson.

We have not seen a wild Indian since we left Laramie, but there was from 250 to 300 lodges here three weeks ago and it is supposed they have gone to Tongue River.

It matters not where they are, as the Gen. intends to find them, and deal out justice to them. He wants to serve them some powder and lead—the power he intends to burn first.

The General has been in the saddle every day since we started, and goes in person, in advance of the train, wherever it is doubtful about finding water, and satisfies himself that there is a sufficient supply. The scarcity of water over the road we have traveled renders it dangerous to those who are not acquainted with the route.

The General, Lieut. (now Capt. Eds.) Jewett, Major Bridger two soldiers and myself, started a few days ago on a scout, and was all day and night without water or anything to eat, we had no blankets and the nights are very cool in this northern region even at this season of the year. The General stood the trip better than any of us, and with less growling; we were not lost but had got so far from camp, that we could not return to it that night, and you may imagine the uneasiness of the boys at camp—some had us scalped; some captured and others lost, but still we live. It was a lucky thing for the expedition that we went, for had we remained to accompany the train the animals would have all perished for want of water. If there is any unforseen accident occurs to this expedition, it will not be the Generals' fault, for he is a military man cautious, always on his guard, and ready for any emergency; he keeps scouts out all the time, and in every direction to prevent surprise, and you can assure the public that he is (in vulgar parlance) going to clean out the Indians this trip, if it can be done with the number of men under his command, and we think it can.

The route we have traveled over, so far is the only practicable one for immigration to Virginia City and the shortest by 800 miles from Fort Laramie.

The military posts will afford protection to the emigrants, and the mineral resources of the country will soon settle it, and ere long its valley will teem with musical sounds from the farmer and the miner.

This is a beautiful place, the river affords at this time about 3,000 inches of water; on either side, the river is well timbered for about half a mile from its banks—the trees are large; the bottoms in the valley are from one to three miles in width; the soil is a sort of black loom mixed with sand, and I think would produce good corn and vegetables; the grass is fair. The health of the men is good, and they are all satisfied that the Gen. is not going back until he gives them an opportunity to show the Indian the ascendancy the white man has over him.

Evidences of prolific resources of gold are abundant; but I will hereafter give you the items.

I will now close, but tell all Christendom that Gen. Connor can invent and carry out a programme which will dissolve this interminable question between the advocates of charity and extermination; and his course will ultimately result in a manner that will challenge the criticism of either side of the question.

Anon, yours, J. D.

Be cured to endure music, when
Of love and peace there's sweetly singing,
But demand he stay quiet, my pet, fling,
When artists climb hills and round thee ring.

MEMBERS of the Y. M. Literary Association are all requested to be present at the meeting this evening.

FLORA TEMPLE, the famous trotting mare, has been sold for $15,000. She is 19 years old.

THE latest synonym for "wild-cats," is "untamed fetlers," and that for "the dead wood," is "the decayed timber!"

THERE'S a new auction store about to open next to Reed's drug store. Mr. Levi, from Idaho City, will be the operator.

THE snow and sloppy streets proved a damper to business doings, about town, on Saturday. Yesterday being Sabbath, was a "quiet day," of course.

THE publication of the National Era has been resumed at Washington after a lapse of five years. It will advocate negro suffrage.

STOVES and stovepipes have been in great demand since Saturday morning's snow spell. Fuel will be "firm" for the future. Hard time, this on the flies and insect world.

THE President is reported to have declared that General Canby, "if he did not behave better," would be ordered to report at Washington for an investigation into his conduct.

SHAKSPEARIAN.—We hear that "Macbeth" is to be brought out at the Salt Lake Theatre, on Wednesday night, by Mr. Horace Valders and the members of the Dramatic Association belonging to this Theatre.

THEATRICAL FAILURE.—The opening of the new theater at Marysville Cal. with flesh sensation plays, was a failure, and the house closed after a brief season. The troupe are starving in Sacramento and "interior towns."

MR. A. B. HILLIKER, from San Francisco, came back by Saturday's stage from the far west, to operate in the telegraph office here. He was welcomed by many friends who made his agreeable acquaintance here last year.

THE mail coaches will be running daily between Denver and this place in a couple of days more, say passengers by yesterday's stage from Colorado. There are plenty of military along the route and "nary Injun" anywhere in sight.

THE telegraph line, which was down east of Omaha, Friday last, commenced working through, that evening, for an hour or two, till the wires got down again somewhere east of the South Pass or St Mary's. It is expected to be repaired this morning.

FORWARDING AND COMMISSION.—The attention of our readers in Utah, Montana, Idaho and Colorado is called to card of Messrs. J. Garside & Co., successors to A. S. Parker & Co., the well-known, reliable forwarding firm at Atchison, Kansas.

WATCHES, JEWELRY &c.—See new card of Mr. Meeks, fashionable jeweler &c. new store, 2d door south of the New York Store, East Temple Street. His present stock of watches, clocks, California quarts, gents' and ladies' jewelry &c. &c. is large and desirable, as a visit to his nice new quarters will convince you.

NORTHERN STAGE LINE.—After Sept. 1st, until further notice, the fare by Overland Stage Line to Virginia City, Montana, and Boise City, Idaho, will be one hundred dollars ($100) Legal Tender Notes, instead of one hundred and fifty dollars as heretofore. The stages are making the trip to Boise in three days and a half and to Virginia in four days.

JO. S. ROBERSON, Agent.

Sep. 7, 1-w.

ENTERPRIZING.—Thos. P. Ames, Esq., lately on East Temple street, in the wholesale liquor trade, has, since the no-licence regime, established himself at Virginia and Helena cities, Montana, in connection with his two brothers recently from Denver and the States. Mr. Ames is now in San Francisco, laying in a lot of stock for his large and growing trade in Montana Territory. He is, literally, a business man in whom the San Fraancisco jobbers can safely take a large amount of "stock."

SNOW STORM.—Everybody's optics were astonished, Saturday morning, as they viewed the streets and trees and house-tops two or three inches deep with snow. The mountains all around were beautifully bright with snow, from base to summit, and remain so still. In some of the cañons there was a depth of eighteen inches reported Saturday morning. The fruit trees, particularly the peach, suffered largely. Whole orchards of them were out west and broken branches about Saturday noon, the burden of the fruit and heavy snow flakes being more than they could bear. Had it frozen more sensibly on Saturday night, the fruit crop generally would have been a sorry failure. This sudden change, from autumnal to snow-crop, is not uncommon for this latitude.

THE stage fare from Sacramento to Portland has been reduced to $50.

MANAGER BLAISDELL'S big troupe of Bell Ringers closed their entertainments at the Salt Lake Theatre on Saturday, and start immediately for Austin, and other cities of the Silver States, en route to California, where they purpose playing all this winter. (We used the latter word, unconsciously, as the most seasonable, seeing snow before our sanctum window, around, aloft and everywhere.) The entertainments given here by this respectable and talented troupe of musicians made everybody sorry to see them start so soon away, but previous arrangements at the theatre—the only place we have here, of any capacity for such concert companies—prevented leasing it any longer to the Bell Ringers. The delightful dexterity with which these gentlemen handled the bells and made melliffluous music, was a mystery to many. The [illegible] and cornet solos were worth the entire admission money, while the extraordinary acting—singing and dancing—of little Cora charmed the whole house. We commend this Troupe to the press and people of Silverland.

NEW TELEGRAPH LINES.—Late exchanges from the west are filled with items about the new lines of telegraph that are to be built immediately overland. The routes of the new lines are to be as follows: One will begin at Chicago and thence to Omaha, Fort Kearney, Denver, and, by the new Holladay road—"Uinta Valley Wagon Road," to this city and hence through Silverland to San Francisco.

The other line will begin at Atchison, (to which point the United States Telegraph Company have already nearly completed a line from St Louis,) and run from thence to Fort Kearney, at which point it will join the first mentioned line and continue from thence a double wire to San Francisco. The former is to be finished, by the terms of the contract, in October, 1866, and the latter by next July.

The third new "lightning line" is to run from San Francisco, via Los Angeles, Prescott, Arizona, Albuquerque, New Mexico, and Memphis, Tenn., to New Orleans. Verily, in the words of Richelieu, ere long "civilization on luminous wings will fly, Ppegis-like, to the immortal Jove."

From San Francisco.

Thirteen members of the People's Committee joined the Regular Union Committee and made a ticket, consisting of six names from the Union and six from the People's ticket, the other six of the Union being withdrawn; but the People's ticket still remains in the field.

How to Live.

He liveth long who liveth well—
All else is being flung away;
He liveth longest who can tell
Of true things truly done each day.

Waste not thy being, but in this
Live truly; give it truly give;
Else is that being but a dream—
'Tis but to be, and not to live.

Be what thou seemest! Live thy creed!
Hold up to earth the torch divine;
Be what thou prayest to be made;
Let the great Master's steps be thine.

Fill up each hour with what will last;
Buy up the moments as they go;
The life above—when this is past—
Is the true life of life below.

Soon will the solemn scene be o'er,
Soon will the pain of life be done;
Then, labor on! Time's wave and shore
Are but the strand and surge of sun.

Work, and despair not; let thy voice
Be as the bird's in early dawn;
Thou shalt rejoice if thou rejoice
Not for thyself, but for the morn.

Work while it is to-day; for soon
Night comes, when man can work no more;
Work while the sun shines; thou shalt reap
Beyond the grave, where sets no sun.

Work with thy might; nor let thy will
Grow tired of toil, or cease to be;
Work on, hope on, and trust still;
Work, and despair not; all shall be well.

Be what thou prayest to be made;
Let the great Master's steps be thine;
Fill up each hour with what will last;
Buy up the moments as they go.

The life above—when this is past—
Is the true life of life below.

Soon will the pain of life be done;
Then, labor on! Time's wave and shore
Are but the strand and surge of sun.

Work while it is to-day, for soon
Night comes, when man can work no more;
Work while the sun shines; thou shalt rest
Beyond the grave, where sets no sun.

Work with your might; nor let your will
Grow tired of toil, or cease to be;
Work on, hope on, and trust still;
Work, and despair not; all shall be well.

Sow peace, and reap its harvest bright;
Sow love, and taste its fragrance pure;
Sow purity, and find delight
Sow kindness on the rock and moor,
And find a harvest home of light.

United States 7.30 LOAN.

Third Series.

$230,000,000.

By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned, the General subscription Agent for the sale of United States securities, offers to the public the third series of Treasury Notes, bearing seven and three-tenths per cent. interest per annum, known as the 7.30 LOAN.

These notes are issued under date of July 15, 1865, and are payable three years from that date in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into

U. S. 5.20 Six per Cent.

Gold bearing Bonds.

The Bonds are now worth a handsome premium, and are exempt, as are all Government Bonds, from County, but not Municipal taxation, which adds from one to three per cent. per annum to their value, according to the rate levied upon other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest at 7.30 per cent. amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note.
Two cents per day on a $100 note.
Ten cents " " " $500 "
Twenty cents " " " $1,000 "
One Dollar " " " $5,000 "

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions.

The notes of this third Series are precisely similar in form and privileges to the Seven Thirties already sold except that the Government reserves to itself the option of paying interest in gold coin at 6 per cent., instead of 7 3-10th in currency. Subscribers will deduct the interest in currency on to July 15th, at the time when the subscribe.

The delivery of the notes of this third series of the seven thirties will commence on the first of June, and will be made promptly and continously after that date.

The chief change made in the conditions of this THIRD SERIES affects only the matter of interest. The payment in gold, if made, will be equivalent to the currency interest of the higher rate.

The return to specie payments, in the event of which only will the option to pay interest in Gold be availed of, would so reduce and equalize prices that purchases made with 8 x per cent. in gold would be fully equal to those made with seven and three-tenths per cent. in currency. This is

The only Loan in the MARKET,

Now offered by the Government, and its superior advantages make it the Great popular Loan of the People.

Less than $230,000,000 of the Loan authorized by Congress are now on the market. This amount, at the rate at which it being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within sixty days when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of country may be offered facilities for taking the Loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.
